

Nashville Denim Days 2018

The first-annual Nashville Denim Days Festival, sponsored by TENCEL™ branded fibers by Lenzing and e3 Sustainable Cotton, will take place on November 10 - 11, 2018. This indigo-soaked two-day shopping event at Marathon Music Works in Nashville, will include interactive displays, indigo dyeing workshops, new denim designers as well as established brands, and denim mills alongside in-store events, a vintage denim market, parties and DJ's— all geared to give consumers access to their denim heroes and heritage brands.

Outside of Marathon Music Works will be the Clinton Street Festival, a street bazaar that will include food, live entertainment, games, art, selfie stations, and more! This festival is for denim heads, fashionistas, foodies, families, tourists, teens, tweens, and of course, all Nashville true-blue denim lovers.
